The Quiet Library

Contents

Chapter One 3
Chapter Two 5

Chapter One

The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it.

It was a remarkable evening in the reading room. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it.

1 A footnote about lamps.

Chapter Two

The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it.

The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it. The lamps were low and the shelves were long. Every book waited for someone to open it.